Staying safe at Great Oaks

This week, we've focused on the important theme of Keeping Safe, tying into our theme for the year: It Takes a Village. The children have been learning about the different people who keep us safe at home, at school, and within our community.

Throughout the week, students participated in engaging assemblies where they shared their own thoughts on what safety means to them. It has been inspiring to see how our young learners recognise and value the importance of safety in their lives. These assemblies especially reinforced the message that there are always adults at school they can turn to when they need help or feel unsafe. Looking ahead, we will continue to collaborate with our community partners, including health professionals and local police, to strengthen our network of "safe people" beyond the school. Our aim is to encourage children to speak out whenever they feel unsafe, whether at home, at school, or out in the community. By working together, we ensure that our school is a secure and supportive place for everyone. After all, It Takes a Village to keep our children safe!
